

How can a complex business improve risk reporting and employee safety globally?

Sodales Solutions helped Woodbridge prevent organizational risks and improve the employee experience

Woodbridge, a global leader in integrated systems manufacturing, employs more than 7,500 engineers, scientists, builders and creators in more than 63 facilities operating in 21 countries. With such a large employee base in a multitude of countries, they were looking to replace their spreadsheet-based tool used to collect enterprise risk data from their global teams – a tool proving to be both time-consuming and error-prone. To automate and streamline this process, Woodbridge turned to Sodales Solutions to help meet their changing business needs for consistent policy interpretation, all while improving the employee experience.

Discovering the right solution on SAP Store helped Woodbridge keep up with their changing business needs for safety compliance.

Challenges

- Wanted to streamline the audit and risk-management processes to drive consistent policy interpretation and improve compliance
- Needed to automate their manual, error-prone method for collecting global risk data to generate risk score reports

Solution: Enterprise Health, Safety & Environment Management Software by Sodales Solutions

- Provides the ability to manage ad-hoc and scheduled audits with customizable location-based scorecards and analytical reporting capabilities
- Enables transparent reporting for quality, hazards, HS&E, behavioral and environmental risk factors, and more
- Available on SAP App Center

Outcomes

- Streamlined global risk and audit-management processes
- Improved employee experience due to improved policy-management capabilities for collaboration across employees, HR leadership, operations, customer service, employees and regulatory bodies
- Enhanced employee well-being by maximizing safety in the workplace

*“Being an innovator in the foam industry, we require specialized and highly agile solutions to meet our growing business needs.
